Introduction

Banco de Comercio Exterior de Colombia S.A. (“Bancóldex”, “the bank” or “the issuer”) is a state-owned development bank that provides financial solutions to support the growth of Colombian companies of all sizes and industries. Bancóldex has developed a social bond framework under which it is issuing multiple social bonds the proceeds of which are being used to finance or refinance expenditures related to micro and small enterprise financing, with the aim of promoting financial and workforce inclusion, gender equality, and local economic development.

Bancóldex has developed the Bancóldex Social Bond Framework (“the framework”) under which it is planning to issue multiple social bonds the proceeds of which are being used to finance or refinance, in whole or in part, existing and future projects that promote sustainable economic development and financial inclusion in Colombia. The framework defines ‘Micro and small enterprise financing and financial inclusion’ as its eligible project category and further breaks down this project category into four eligible target groups:

1. Micro and small enterprise financing
2. Rural business financing
3. Women-owned business financing
4. Victims of armed conflict-owned business financing

Bancóldex engaged Sustainalytics to review its Social Bond Framework and provide a second-party opinion on the alignment of the framework with the Social Bond Principles 2017 (the “SBP”), as administered by the International Capital Market Association (the “ICMA”).<sup>1</sup> and the framework’s social credentials. This framework has been published in a separate document.<sup>2</sup>

As part of this engagement, Sustainalytics held conversations with various members of the Bancóldex management team to understand the social impact of their business processes and planned use of proceeds, as well as the management of proceeds and reporting aspects of the bank’s social bond. Sustainalytics also reviewed relevant public documents and non-public information. Following this engagement between Bancóldex and Sustainalytics, some elements of the Social Bond Framework were clarified to ensure an alignment with the level of disclosure expected by ICMA’s Social Bond Principles, 2017.

This document contains Sustainalytics’ opinion of the Social Bond Framework and should be read in conjunction with that framework.

Sustainalytics' Opinion

Section 1: Sustainalytics' Opinion on the Bancóldex Social Bond Framework

Summary

Sustainalytics is of the opinion that the Bancóldex Social Bond Framework is credible and impactful and aligns with the four core components of the Social Bond Principles 2017. Sustainalytics views the following elements of the Bancóldex framework positively.

- The eligible use of proceeds category micro and small enterprise financing and financial inclusion aligns with the SBP categories of (i) Employment generation including through the potential effect of SME financing and microfinance and (ii) Access to essential services, and is therefore recognized by the Social Bond Principles as a project category with clear social benefits. Sustainalytics also views these projects as having a positive impact (for additional information on impact see Section 3).
- With regards to social impact, Bancóldex has clearly defined the vulnerable groups that will receive support in terms of social expenditures, benefitting from several programs specifically developed to support their social and financial integration and improve local economic conditions. Furthermore, Colombian government definitions were used by Bancóldex to define micro and small enterprises, rural areas, and victims of armed conflict. Sustainalytics is of the opinion that aligning these definitions with the government's definitions ensures that the social bond is credible with respect to targeting vulnerable populations.
- The selection of eligible projects will be completed by the bank's Social Bonds Committee, comprised of representatives from the treasury, project management and commercial vice-presidency and overseen by the bank's Financial and Administrative Vice Presidency. Sustainalytics considers this in line with market practice.
- To mitigate project financing environmental and social risks, Bancóldex implemented an Environmental and Social Risk Management System (ESMS) for second-tier banking activities in 2012, with the support of the Inter-American Development Bank (IADB). Sustainalytics considers this to be in line with market best practice.
- Bancóldex has an internal statistical tracking system in place that is connected to the Bancóldex central banking system which allows the bank to validate the information of each credit operation. This use of proceeds management system is in line with market practice.
- Bancóldex commits to annual disclosure. The allocation reporting will be externally audited and made available to investors on Bancóldex's website, the National Registry of Securities and Issuers, as well as on the website of the Colombia Stock Exchange. In addition, Bancóldex will disclose impact reporting in its "Use of Social Bond Resources" annual report, including information such as the number of rural and women-owned micro and small enterprises financed. Overall, the bank's commitment to transparency in allocation and impact reporting is in line with market best practice.

Alignment with Social Bond Principles 2017:

Sustainalytics has determined that the Bancóldex Social Bond Framework aligns to the four core components of the Social Bond Principles 2017. For detailed information please refer to Appendix 2.

Section 2: Sustainability Strategy of the Issuer

Contribution of framework to issuer's sustainability strategy

Sustainalytics considers Bancóldex's sustainability strategy to be strong given that:

- The bank's sustainability strategy is aligned with the Colombian National Development Plan 2014 – 2018,<sup>3</sup> which outlines clear social objectives on aspects such as promoting financial inclusion, improving access to financial resources for SMEs, improving access to rural employment programs, reducing poverty, promoting social equality, and stimulating economic development in Colombia;
- Bancóldex has been a major actor in mediating the relationship between the National Government and the business sector to support the financial sector, particularly microenterprises;
- The social bond aligns with the bank's sustainability strategy which includes the following goals: (i) generating value through sustainable economy, (ii) increasing productivity and competitiveness of Colombian companies, and (iii) promoting the adoption of sustainable development standards of cities;<sup>4</sup>

Sustainalytics considers Bancóldex to be well positioned to issue social bonds given its alignment with the National Government's development plan. Furthermore, Bancóldex has developed various financial products customized to address relevant socio-economic needs of the country. Overall, the issuance of social bonds aligns with the bank's social objectives and will contribute to the realization of these long-term goals.

Well positioned to manage social and environmental risks associated with the financed projects

By offering financial services, banks are exposed to risks associated with controversial companies and/or projects they may finance. To reduce exposure and prevent negative impacts, banks are expected to implement social and environmental risk assessments for projects that they choose to finance.

There are two main groups of intermediaries that participate in the financing of micro and small businesses with Bancóldex. The first group includes banks, financing companies and financial cooperatives. The first group is overseen by the Colombian Finance Superintendent. The second group includes entities such as credit unions and employee funds. The second group of entities are overseen by NGOs and other superintendents.

In all project funding cases, Bancóldex completes the following steps as an evaluation process of the entities that will be providing credits and managing the loan portfolios of the micro and small enterprises.

1. Onboarding documents from the entity and risk evaluation information is requested and assessed
2. A complete due diligence on the entity regarding complying with Anti-Money Laundering (AML) and Terrorism Financing (TF) sanction lists is performed
3. The Bancóldex Risk Department visits the entity and establishes a limit amount for loans which is approved by senior management
4. A follow up assessment of the entity is completed on a quarterly basis.

In addition to these measures, Bancóldex implemented an Environmental and Social Risk Management System (ESMS) for second-tier banking activities in 2012, with the support of the Inter-American Development Bank (IADB). For further details on the ESMS please refer to Appendix 1.

Overall, given the level of assessment required in Bancóldex's evaluation of entities providing micro and small enterprise loans, the ESMS, the exclusionary criteria (which identify activities that cannot be financed by Bancóldex due to associated risks<sup>5</sup>), and the due diligence performed at project level, Sustainalytics is of the opinion that Bancóldex is well positioned to identify, manage and address environmental and social risks associated with the projects financed.

Section 3: Impact of Use of Proceeds

Micro and small enterprise financing and financial inclusion is recognized as an impactful use of proceeds category by the SBP and Sustainalytics views the selection of this category positively. Sustainalytics has focused on two issue areas below where the impact is specifically relevant in the local context.

Contribution towards the social inclusion of victims of armed conflict

Bancóldex recognizes the vast negative effects that were generated by the Colombian armed conflict which began in the mid-1960s and resulted in the death of hundreds of thousands and the forced displacement of millions of people. According to the Victims Registry (Registro Único de Víctimas)<sup>6</sup>, the rights of more than 8 million people were affected by the armed conflict. To address this issue, the Colombian Government outlined three action points within the National Development Plan 2014 – 2018, to support the transition to peace: ensuring security, justice, and democracy, including the reintegration, both socially and economically, of victims of armed conflict into society. Proceeds from the social bonds will finance, through targeted business loans, victims of the Colombian ongoing armed conflict in order to facilitate their reintegration into the workforce. Overall, although the financing of conflict victim-owned businesses accounts for a relatively small portion of the social bond's overall use of proceeds portfolio, Sustainalytics considers the financing of conflict victim-owned businesses as a strong and impactful use of proceeds, particularly due to the large targeted population, the support it provides in activating local economies, as well as in terms of preventing overall social exclusion.

Importance of supporting women-owned businesses in achieving peace

According to both Colombia's National Development Plan 2014 – 2018<sup>7</sup> and the UN Colombia Strategy Plan for Women 2017-2019<sup>8</sup>, gender inequality is a structural issue, and considered a major obstacle in achieving general peace in Colombia. According to the United Nations Development Program's Gender Inequality Index<sup>9</sup>, Colombia ranks 95 out of 188 countries with respect to gender equality. The general objective of the UN Colombia Strategy Plan for Women 2017-2019 is to empower women politically and economically in order to eradicate violence, support peace and security, as well as to promote female leadership and political participation. Bancóldex intends to allocate social bond proceedings to businesses owned by women in order to promote their integration and employment, reduce the gender pay gap, and support victims of gender violence, all sustainability goals which are aligned with Colombia's National Development Plan 2014 – 2018 and the UN Colombia Strategy Plan for Women 2017-2019. Sustainalytics recognizes the importance of gender parity and the link between supporting female-owned businesses and improving gender equality, and regards the projects funded through Bancóldex's social bonds as bringing significant positive social benefits to Colombian society.

Alignment with/contribution to the SDGs

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) were set in September 2015 and form an agenda for achieving sustainable development by the year 2030. This social bond advances the following SDG goals and targets:

Conclusion

Bancóldex has developed the Bancóldex Social Bond Framework under which it intends to issue social bonds. Proceeds of the bonds will be used to finance or refinance projects and assets with related expenditures in the area of micro and small enterprise financing and financial inclusion, recognized by the Social Bond Principles as a project category with clear social benefits.

Sustainalytics is of the opinion that the framework aligns with the ICMA's Social Bond Principles 2017 given both the nature of the eligibility criteria of the project category and the targeted populations served. By issuing social bonds to finance micro and small business loans to vulnerable groups in Colombia, Bancóldex is promoting a fairer and more inclusive society, improving the quality of life of vulnerable citizens, and supporting local economic growth. Through the issuance of this social bond, Bancóldex is carrying out the objectives of its sustainability strategy, the National Development Plan 2014 – 2018, as well as helping to advance SDGs 5, 8,9 and 10.

Based on the above, Sustainalytics is confident that Bancóldex is well positioned to issue social bonds and that the Bancóldex Social Bond Framework is credible, transparent and well-aligned with the four core components of the Social Bond Principles.

Appendices

Appendix 1: Bancóldex Environmental and Social Risk Management System

Bancóldex implemented an Environmental and Social Risk Management System (ESMS) for second-tier banking activities in 2012, with the support of the Inter-American Development Bank (IADB). This system allows Bancóldex to identify the environmental and social risks of credit operations, to have a more comprehensive profile of its clients in the portfolio, and to make investment decisions in a more informed way.

This assessment includes five stages:

- a) Verification of the coherence of the information provided by the enterprise;
- b) Initial categorization of the level of risk associated with the credit operation;
- c) identification of environmental and social risks, that are not being avoided, mitigated or compensated;
- d) definitive categorization;
- e) monitoring measures aimed at controlling and mitigating risks that are not being avoided, mitigated or compensated.

According to this information, Bancóldex assigns one of the following socio-environmental risk categories to the credit operation: High Risk (Category A), Medium Risk (Category B), or Low Risk (Category C).

In 2016, Bancóldex requested the International Finance Corporation (IFC) to evaluate its Environmental and Social Risk Management System. IFC considered Bancóldex's ESMS as "developed" and provided additional recommendations. As part of its continuous improvement process, Bancóldex is currently implementing some adjustments to address the improvements areas identified during the evaluation.

ABOUT ROLE(S) OF REVIEW PROVIDERS AS DEFINED BY THE GBP

- i. Consultant Review: An issuer can seek advice from consultants and/or institutions with recognized expertise in environmental sustainability or other aspects of the issuance of a Green Bond, such as the establishment/review of an issuer's Green Bond framework. "Second Party Opinions" may fall into this category.
- ii. Verification: An issuer can have its Green Bond, associated Green Bond framework, or underlying assets independently verified by qualified parties, such as auditors. In contrast to certification, verification may focus on alignment with internal standards or claims made by the issuer. Evaluation of the environmentally sustainable features of underlying assets may be termed verification and may reference external criteria.
- iii. Certification: An issuer can have its Green Bond or associated Green Bond framework or Use of Proceeds certified against an external green assessment standard. An assessment standard defines criteria, and alignment with such criteria is tested by qualified third parties / certifiers.
- iv. Rating: An issuer can have its Green Bond or associated Green Bond framework rated by qualified third parties, such as specialised research providers or rating agencies. Green Bond ratings are separate from an issuer's ESG rating as they typically apply to individual securities or Green Bond frameworks / programmes.
